The background of the cover is a photograph of a ship's mast and radar equipment on the sea. A Dutch flag (red, white, and blue horizontal stripes) is flying from the mast. Below the flag is a large, white, spherical radar dome. The sea is a deep blue-grey color, and the sky is a pale blue. The mast structure is black and complex, with various antennas and sensors.

A young child with dark hair, wearing a maroon and cream-colored striped sweater and light blue jeans, is in the foreground on the right, looking over their shoulder towards the camera with a thoughtful expression, their hand near their mouth. In the background, a sprawling refugee camp is visible, consisting of numerous small, makeshift tents and shacks built on a dry, hilly landscape. A large metal bucket filled with water and a white plastic tube is in the lower-left foreground. The overall scene is set against a backdrop of rolling hills under a clear sky.
